

BooMap

Every Halloween event near you.

Free at boomap.app

BooMap: a free map of 1,996 Halloween events in 84 U.S. cities

BooMap maps pumpkin patches, corn mazes, trunk-or-treats, family events, ghost tours and haunted houses in 84 metro areas across 41 states and Washington, D.C. Every event's 2026 dates are checked on its own website. It's completely free at boomap.app. Halloween 2026 falls on a Saturday.

398

pumpkin patches & corn
mazes

502

family Halloween events

163

trunk-or-treats

275

fall festivals

366

ghost tours

292

haunted houses

368

free events

1,179

not-too-scary picks for little ones

What makes it different

- Dates verified on the organizer's own site, and marked when a venue confirms its listing itself.
- A suggested age (All Ages, Teens+, Adults Only) and a 1-to-5 ghost scare level on every event.
- Official trick-or-treat hours for towns that set them.
- Patches first; haunted houses are there for the brave.

The Boo Awards

Fans vote for their city's favorites Oct. 1–25: Best Pumpkin Patch, Best for Little Goblins, Boo's Hidden Gem (small, local events only), Most Fun Overall and Most Likely to Make You Scream. Winners are announced Oct. 27. boomap.app/boo-awards

Interviews

Andrew Ward, creator of BooMap: Emmy-nominated TV and film producer, owner of Toronado Entertainment and SVP at 10 Lives Studios. Built a six-room haunted house in his family's driveway in 7th grade. producinghollywood.com

Kristen Moss, spokesperson: reality TV casting director, President of KMoss Casting, co-creator of the American Reality Television Awards and a mom of two. kmosscasting.com

Say it

"Boo-Map," at boomap dot app. Boo, the friendly ghost, calls it "my map."

Press kit

Logos, Boo art and video, app screenshots and demo, audio for radio, and 84 city press sheets:

boomap.app/press